

Courses in English

Course Description

Department	13 General and Interdisciplinary Studies
Course title	Super power on its knees? A look at America's problems and their solutions
Hours per week (SWS)	2
Number of ECTS credits	2
Course objective	This course aims to look at the different problems the country is facing today. Upon completion of this course, students should be more aware of the causes of the problems and have gained an insight into the possible solutions.
Prerequisites
Recommended reading
Teaching methods	This seminar will be held biweekly. There will be in-class reading, discussion, presentation, group work and analysis. It will be very interactive.
Assessment methods	Credits will be earned through a presentation and a paper.
Language of instruction	English
Name of lecturer	Nicholas Sinn
Email	nicholas.sinn@hm.edu
Link
Course content	America has its shares of ups and downs in the past: think of the inflation-ridden of the late 1970s, the competition from Japan and the jobless recovery in the early 1990s. Both times America bounced back. However, America has gone from being one of the world's largest exporter to importer and its dependence on cheap imports is painfully apparent. Additionally, the country has faced threats from abroad and within. But a bigger and more urgent question on everyone's mind is, no doubt: after Administration of Trump, can America face its challenges again, under the leadership of the current president Joe Biden?
Remarks	This is a Cultural Studies class (drawing from approaches in Literary, Media Studies, and Political Science). A lot will be based on articles from newspapers and journals. Other literature will be provided at the beginning of class.