

Courses in English Course Description

Department	10 Business Administration
Course title	Intercultural Aspects in Project Management
Hours per week (SWS)	4
Number of ECTS credits	5
Course objective	To gain an understanding of the rationale underlying formal project management <ul style="list-style-type: none">· To become familiar with the entire project life-cycle· To develop skills with project management techniques for planning and controlling projects Acquired competences: <ul style="list-style-type: none">· Take a global and multicultural perspective to project management· Understand and manage the interplay between people, technologies and organizations that underlies project management· Understand, manage and control project risk and security· Understand the impact of social, economic, legal, and ethical issues on project management in organizations
Prerequisites	In order to successfully pass this class you should have an understanding of business and IT-development processes as well as good English language skills. The seminar is open to Erasmusstudents as well as students from other departments who qualify as stated above (Courses in English).
Recommended reading	Information Technology Project Management, 6th Edition by Kathy Schwalbe ISBN: 978-0-324-78692-7 Project Management Institute website: www.pmi.org
Teaching methods
Assessment methods	Studienarbeit und Kolloquium (15-45 Minuten)
Language of instruction	English
Name of lecturer	Prof. Dr. Gordon Hunter
Email	gordon.hunter@hm.edu
Link
Course content	Attributes of a project <ul style="list-style-type: none">· Constraints on project objectives· Project life cycle· Project management phases· The project management process· Project management techniques· Project schedule control
Remarks	Workload: on site class study: approx. 42 hours, Self-study: approx. 108 hours