

Department	10 Business Administration
Course title	Leadership by Law
Course number	PR.3
Hours per week (SWS)	4
Number of ECTS credits	5
Course objective	In the Leadership by Law module, students learn how to understand and apply the legal frameworks relevant to different industries. This understanding enables them to grasp and manage the link between business practice and law. The module opens students' eyes to the opportunities that the law offers for business decisions. Upon completion of the module, students will be able to develop new strategies and business models. This will strengthen their leadership skills for working in businesses in all sectors.
Prerequisites	None
Recommended reading	Will be announced in the course
Teaching methods	Interactive teaching Working on practical cases Project work on the implementation of self-developed strategies/business models Guided self-study Offer of in-depth content in electronic learning platform
Assessment methods	ModA
Language of instruction	English
Name of lecturer	Susanne Wende
Email	susanne.wende@hm.edu
Link
Course content	Practice-orientated teaching of the following content (alternatively, depending on interests and inclination in the semester group): Competition - legal implications for manoeuvre Importance of the corporate form for the business Legal challenges to long-term investments Managing crisis situations with confidence Regulated industries – special business Artificial intelligence in business - a legal challenge
Remarks	